

GRACE HOUSE INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL
THIRD TERMINAL EXAMINATION
(2025/2026 SESSION)

SUBJECT: Agricultural Science CLASS: SS 1

INSTRUCTIONS: Answer Section A and any TWO questions from Section B.

SECTION A (MULTIPLE CHOICE)

1. The term agriculture is derived from two Latin words — and —.
2. The branches or areas of specialization in agriculture include — and —.
3. Crop pathology is — (a) study of crop diseases (b) study of trees (c) study of soil (d) study of animals.
4. — and — are two types of propagation.
5. — and — are types of farming system.
6. — and — are factors that determine the use of cropping system.
7. Another name for non-ruminant animals is —.
8. The type of respiration which takes place in the presence of oxygen is known as — (a) Aerobic (b) Digestion (c) Monogastrics (d) Anaerobic.
9. The ability in animals to give birth to young ones is "termed" —.
10. — period is the time when the female animal shows signs of its readiness to mate.
11. — and — can affect land availability and uses in Nigeria.
12. Types of rock includes — and —.
13. The process of soil formation is called — (a) Weathering (b) Denudation (c) Carbonation.
14. Farm power can be derived from — and —.
15. — is the amount paid on borrowed capital or an amount earned above the cost of goods. (a) Interest (b) Loan (c) Capital.

SECTION B (THEORY)

- 1 a) Explain the meaning of agricultural finance.
b) Name six sources of farm finance.
c) Describe two importance of agricultural finance.
- 2 a) Define land as used in agriculture.
b) List 2 ways each in which land can (i) appreciate (ii) depreciate.
c) Explain briefly (i) Family labour (ii) Hired labour.
- 3 a) What does mechanisation mean in agriculture?
b) State 2 advantages and 2 disadvantages.
c) State four problems of farm mechanization.
- 4 a) Define Weathering.
b) Enumerate three processes involved in rock weathering.
- 5 a) Define land.
b) State the two major classifications of land based on uses and give two examples in each case.
c) List four factors that influence the availability of land for agricultural production.